[CORKEN TRAINING] A2L REFRIGERANT TRANSITION

9:00 AM – 11:00 AM

ABOUT THIS CLASS:

The HVACR industry is making the transition to more environmentally friendly (lower GWP) refrigerants. With this transition, HFCs are being phased down and there has been a growing acceptance of the use of A2L refrigerants due to their lower flammability and toxicity.

THIS CLASS COVERS:

- The facts, advantages, and hazards of R-454B Refrigerants
- Combustion and thermal decomposition of refrigerant
- Superheat vs. subcool R454B
- Field Procedures of A2LS
